New Philadelphia, Ohio – Investment Partners, LTD, a locally-owned, SEC-registered investment advisor, was recently named one of the Top 100 Independent Advisors in America. The nomination was announced by Registered Rep magazine. New Philadelphia, Ohio-based Investment Partners ranked number 20 on this year’s list with $501,000,000 in assets under management. The company jumped five spots higher than last year’s listing at number 25.

“We are both honored and proud to have been recognized as the 20th largest firm in the Top 100 Independent Advisors in America,” said Steve Stocker, managing member and principal located at 419 West High Avenue in the New Philadelphia office. “The majority of the firms on the list are in larger cities across the country, so it is especially gratifying to be included.” Joining Stocker as investment advisors in the New Philadelphia office are Doug Bambeck and Chris Hensel.

“Of course we’re honored and humbled to join this elite membership, thanks to our clients and the relationships we’ve built with them,” said Bambeck. “However, the recognition that always means the most to us is our clients’ continued trust in our firm and services.”

Registered Rep noted advisors were ranked by assets under management using the Discovery-RR database system. Discovery maintains data on the registered rep universe then validates the ranking via direct survey.
